Stroll the Vieux Bassin, where tall, narrow timber-framed houses crowd the water's edge, their reflections shimmering in the harbor. Learn about Honfleur's trading past and its role as a launch point for exploration, including Samuel de Champlain's 1608 voyage that founded Quebec City. Continue along winding streets lined with cafés, galleries and artisan shops to the wooden Church of Sainte-Catherine, built by shipwrights with the ceilings over the two naves shaped like inverted ship hulls. (Moderate)

Stroll through the public gardens to the estuary and beach or ascend part of the Pont de Normandie for elevated views of the river and sea. You may also visit Ferme Saint-Siméon, where Impressionists once painted the shifting light over the estuary.

Take a break for lunch at a restaurant in Arromanches.

Next, as you walk along Omaha Beach, pause at the memorial to reflect on the extraordinary bravery of the Allied landing forces, who advanced under devastating fire across the heavily fortified shoreline to overcome German troops. At the Normandy American Cemetery and Memorial in Colleville-sur-Mer, observe the rows and rows of 9,385 white crosses and Stars of David overlooking the channel and honoring the fallen, as well as the serene memorial garden remembering those missing in action. Château du Bec. Continue, crossing the elegant, cable-stayed Pont de Normandie that spans the Seine en route to Upper Normandy to visit Château du Bec, a beautiful, privately owned 10th-century castle. Located at the confluence of two bodies of water fed by the sources of the Lézarde, this castle took its name from the Norse appellation le bec, meaning ‘stream’. Meet one of the owners and explore the wooded grounds. Savor a lunch that features estate-grown produce paired with local wines. (Moderate)
